October–November Opportunities 2026

All 36 names on your lists, in your order: 3-month price charts, price moves, earnings, guidance, capex, partnerships, catalysts and the market events that can move each one. Ready for Monday Oct 26, 2026, with the weekend's news. Prices are official Nasdaq closes through Friday Oct 23 (the last session). Times are Pacific.

Charts show 3 months of daily closes, which shows each stock's trend and how far it has pulled back; the shaded band is the last month. Decision support, not advice. News facts come from CNBC, Bloomberg, Seeking Alpha and Al Jazeera (the outlets on your list this session could reach), plus company filings cited there. Consensus EPS is from Nasdaq. Earnings dates marked "est." are not confirmed by the company.

Where to buy options: IV check

Buy days this week: Mon Oct 26, Tue Oct 27. Only names your rules allow are listed, best value first. Cheap = options cost less than the stock has actually been moving (IV below 20-day movement): the better time to buy. Normal = fair. Expensive = wait. The expiry shown is the allowed one nearest 30 days (7–60 DTE and ending before the next report); take profit at +25% to +100% (Rule 1).

Quotes are Nasdaq delayed option prices at the last close; recheck live before buying. A cheap reading is not a buy signal on its own.

After earnings: the other 20 names

No new options on these until their report is out (Rules 3 and 4). IV here is estimated without the earnings move, from two expiries after the report, so you know where each one stands and the first day you can buy (skipping Fridays and Rule 3 data days). Recheck live after the report: IV usually drops once earnings pass.

This week: when you can trade

Mon Oct 26	Clear for trading. No major data, and none of your names report. The last fully clear day before FOMC Wednesday.
Tue Oct 27	Clear for trading, but Corning reports before the open, and SK hynix, Teradyne and Robinhood report after the close. No new options on GLW, SKHY, TER or HOOD.
Wed Oct 28	FOMC at 11:00 AM PT, so no trades (Rule 3). Vertiv reports before the open; KLA, Microsoft and Alphabet report after the close.
Thu Oct 29	GDP and PCE at 5:30 AM PT, so no trades (Rule 3). Amazon, Intel, Coinbase and Reddit report after the close.
Fri Oct 30	Friday, so no new trades (Rule 2). Employment Cost Index at 5:30 AM PT.

Market backdrop

Headwind. Rates near 5%, hot inflation, a live Fed and Brent at $116.72 (a six-month high) weigh on high-multiple growth. The offset is hyperscaler capex: this week's Microsoft, Alphabet and Amazon reports decide whether the AI build-out keeps getting funded.

Monday Oct 26 game plan

What changed over the weekend, what you can and can't trade, and when the system reports in. Facts from CNBC, Bloomberg, Seeking Alpha and Al Jazeera; prices are Friday's official closes.

Weekend update

Rules	Monday is clear to trade (no Fed, CPI, PCE, PPI, jobs or GDP data; it isn't a Friday). Tuesday is also clear except for names reporting. Wednesday (FOMC) and Thursday (GDP/PCE) are no-trade days, and Friday is Rule 2. So Monday and Tuesday are the only open days this week.
Oil	Brent settled at $116.72 Friday (+3.1%; +6.2% on the week; highest since Apr 29), WTI $103.27 (CNBC). CNBC reported Oct 24 that the administration vowed to hold off new strikes on Iran until after the Nov 3 midterms; Iran said it won't let U.S. warships get close (Al Jazeera).
Fed	Decision Wed 11:00 AM PT. Futures price only ~10% odds of a hike (Seeking Alpha week-ahead, Oct 24); CNBC had a hold at 92% on Oct 23. 10-year closed Friday at 5.00%.
AI trade	Nasdaq −0.7% and S&P 500 −0.5% last week. Thursday's 2.6% Nasdaq drop was the worst since June, led by neoclouds; CDS spreads on Nvidia and Oracle hit records (CNBC). Microsoft/Alphabet (Wed) and Amazon (Thu) capex is the next test.
Movers	BE −11.2% to $193.30 despite a Q3 beat and raised guide (adj. EPS $0.94 vs $0.68; revenue $1.24B vs $1.06B) on negative free cash flow; Jefferies cut its target to $242 from $289 (CNBC, Seeking Alpha). SKHY +4.1% after scrapping the Solidigm U.S. IPO (CNBC, Bloomberg). CRDO −9.5% after −10.7% Thursday; I found no company-specific news in your outlets, so treat it as part of the AI selloff.

Your options on Monday

No new options this week	20 names: every 7–60 DTE expiry runs into their report (Rules 3 and 4): AMZN, SKHY, VRT, COHR, HOOD, ARM, GLW, INTC, KLAC, QCOM, IONQ, TER, VST, AKAM, DOCN, COIN, CRCL, RDDT, AAOI, IREN.
Open, with an earnings cutoff	AVGO, CRDO, CIEN, MRVL, AMAT, NVDA, CBRS, CRWV, NBIS, ORCL, BABA: expiries must end before each report; each stock page lists the allowed Fridays.

Market themes that can move your stocks

Rates and the Fed

The Fed raised rates in September for the first time since 2023. Hot CPI and PPI kept another hike in play for Oct 28: CME FedWatch odds of an Oct 28 hike jumped to about 49% after the Oct 14 CPI, then fell to about 8% by Oct 23 (92% hold, per CNBC). Seeking Alpha's week-ahead (Oct 24) puts the odds of a hike on Wednesday near 10%, so a hold is expected; a December hike is still priced near 78%. Watch Warsh's press conference at 11:30 AM PT for December guidance. The 10-year is near 5%. That is the biggest pressure on high-multiple growth names: AI optics, neoclouds and quantum.

Most exposed: All 36, most of all IONQ, CRWV, NBIS, IREN, AAOI, CBRS

AI capex: the core driver

Microsoft and Alphabet report Oct 28 and Amazon Oct 29. Their capex guidance feeds straight into Nvidia, Broadcom, Marvell, Credo, the optics names, Vertiv, Corning and the chip-equipment makers. Amazon already raised 2026 capex to about $220B. The CEOs of Nvidia and Broadcom both say capital, not demand, is now the limit.

Most exposed: NVDA, AVGO, MRVL, CRDO, CIEN, COHR, GLW, AAOI, VRT, AMZN

AI credit stress

In mid-October, worries about debt-funded data centers (CoreWeave, Oracle, the OpenAI build-outs) hit the neoclouds and their suppliers. SpaceX's ~$40B debt sale and Broadcom's OpenAI financing talks show how much of this cycle runs on borrowed money.

Most exposed: CRWV, NBIS, IREN, ORCL, BE, AVGO, SPCX

Memory shortage and prices

DRAM and HBM prices are rising. That helps SK hynix, but it squeezes Nvidia's margins (expected to bottom near 71–72%), cut Intel's PC outlook, hurt Qualcomm's handset guide and lifted Amazon's capex.

Most exposed: SKHY, NVDA, INTC, QCOM, AMZN, LRCX, AMAT

Chip equipment and China

Lam's cautious Oct 21 guide pulled the group lower; KLA fell 10% on Oct 22. China export rules still limit sales. KLA reports Oct 28 and Applied Materials Nov 12.

Most exposed: LRCX, KLAC, AMAT, TER, SKHY

Oil and inflation

Brent settled at $116.72 on Friday (+6.2% on the week, third straight weekly gain, highest since Apr 29) on fears of renewed U.S. strikes on Iran and Houthi attacks on Saudi Arabia; at least 18 vessels have come under fire in two weeks (Kpler, via CNBC). OPEC+ meets around Nov 1. Higher oil feeds inflation and keeps the Fed hawkish. Power and utility names react to energy prices too.

Most exposed: VST, BE, broad market

Crypto

Bitcoin was about $80.5K on Friday. Crypto volumes and prices drive Coinbase, Robinhood and Circle, and IREN's legacy mining business.

Most exposed: COIN, HOOD, CRCL, IREN

Event risk ahead

Midterm elections Nov 3; Nvidia earnings Nov 18 (the biggest single read-through for the AI names); Nvidia GTC DC and AWS re:Invent Nov 30–Dec 4.

Most exposed: All 36

Wall Street price targets

Consensus = Nasdaq analyst consensus (average, low–high, buy/hold/sell count). Named targets are the most recent ones reported by your outlets (CNBC, Seeking Alpha; "via TipRanks" = headline on CNBC's quote page). Bold = JPMorgan, BofA, Morgan Stanley, Goldman Sachs, Oppenheimer, Mizuho. Dates and sources are on each stock page. Many targets were set before October's selloff, so the upside looks large; watch for cuts after earnings.

Options IV check: are the options you're allowed to buy cheap?

For each name, I took the expiry your rules allow (7–60 DTE from Mon Oct 26, ending before the next report) closest to 30 days. Its at-the-money implied volatility (IV) is compared with how much the stock has actually moved over the last 20 trading days (HV).

Cheap: IV below actual movement (ratio under 1.0); the better time to buy. Normal: ratio 1.0–1.5. Expensive: ratio 1.5 or more; you pay up and need a bigger move. after earn. = every allowed expiry runs into earnings, so no new options yet (Rule 3); the verdict and IV marked * are estimated without the earnings move, from two expiries after the report (term structure), so you know where each name stands once it has reported.

Source: Nasdaq delayed option quotes at Friday Oct 23's close (mid of bid/ask), IV solved with Black-Scholes; HV from official closes. This compares IV with actual movement, not a true IV rank, because I don't have a verified year of IV history. Earnings move = straddle price on the first expiry after the report. Quotes change daily; check live before trading.

NEXT EARNINGS	Not set · last reported Tue Oct 20
OPTIONS WINDOW	Already reported Tue Oct 20; next date not set yet. A 7–60 DTE option bought now is not expected to run into a report.
IV CHECK	Cheap · IV 51% vs 67% actual 20-day movement (ratio 0.77) on the Nov 27 expiry, 32 DTE. Actual movement includes the Oct 20 earnings move, so "cheap" may be overstated.
LATEST RESULTS	Q3 (Oct 20): revenue about $14.6B, up 161% vs $12.7B expected; operating income $2.8B; net income $4.4B. Super Intelligence revenue $7.56B (9x a year ago).
GUIDANCE	Q1 2027 revenue $33–37B vs $22.2B consensus (LSEG).
CAPEX & INVESTMENT	Q3 capex $19.6B, more than its revenue. It fell 9% on Oct 22 on capex worries. A ~$40B debt sale is nearing completion at higher borrowing costs.
CURRENT PARTNERSHIPS	• AI partner network incl. Nvidia, Databricks, Bain (Oct 22) • Proposed Tesla merger (needs Musk's approval; aimed to close before the end of Trump's term, per Bloomberg) • Plans for 80K cell sites for a wireless network (report, Oct 23)
CATALYSTS	• The next earnings date isn't set (it just reported) • Tesla merger terms • Debt-sale pricing • Starlink–Ukraine dispute headlines • Phillip double upgrade, $250 target (Oct 23)
MARKET EVENTS	Rates and credit spreads (heavy borrowing); AI-capex sentiment; politics (Pentagon/Ukraine, White House).
RISKS	Capex burn; merger governance; key-person risk (Musk).
WALL STREET TARGETS	No Nasdaq consensus yet (recent U.S. listing). Morgan Stanley Overweight $300 (Jul, Seeking Alpha) · Evercore ISI Outperform $275 (Oct 16, CNBC) · PhillipCapital Buy $250 (Oct 23, CNBC) · Pivotal Buy $220 (Sep 8, CNBC) · TD Cowen Buy $200 (Sep 29, CNBC)

$321.68	-0.5%	-2.2%	-8.2%	-18.0%	-33.2%

3 months of daily closes (Jul 23 to Oct 23); shaded = last month. Intraday ranges: 1 month $320.23–$380.84; 3 months $320.23–$432.73.

NEXT EARNINGS	Thu Dec 10 (est.) · time not announced · in 45 days
CONSENSUS EPS	$3.45 vs $1.61 a year ago · 10 analysts
OPTIONS WINDOW	Reports Thu Dec 10, 45 days out. Friday expiries that are ≥7 DTE and still before the report: Nov 6, Nov 13, Nov 20, Nov 27, Dec 4. Anything later is held into earnings (Rules 3 and 4).
IV CHECK	Normal · IV 41% vs 39% actual 20-day movement (ratio 1.06) on the Nov 27 expiry, 32 DTE.
LATEST RESULTS	Fiscal Q3 (reported Sep 2): revenue $29.6B, up 86%; adjusted EPS $3.32 vs $3.24 expected; AI chip revenue $16.7B, up 221%.
GUIDANCE	Fiscal Q4 revenue $34.8B (+93%), slightly under the $35.03B consensus; AI chip revenue $21.7B. Fiscal 2026 AI revenue raised to $58B (from $56B). Outlines $115B of AI chip revenue in fiscal 2027 and $230B in 2028.
CAPEX & INVESTMENT	Its own capex is small. Its growth depends on customers' AI budgets, and it is now helping fund one: talks on a $50B+ financing deal for OpenAI's custom chips.
CURRENT PARTNERSHIPS	• OpenAI and Anthropic custom chips (concentration flagged by analysts) • Google TPU designs • NTT DOCOMO 10-year VMware cloud deal (Oct 20)
CATALYSTS	• Earnings Thu Dec 10 • Hyperscaler earnings: Microsoft and Alphabet Oct 28, Amazon Oct 29 (AI spending read-through) • Progress on the OpenAI financing deal • Nvidia earnings Nov 18 and GTC DC (Nov 30–Dec 3)
MARKET EVENTS	CEO Hock Tan says capital, not demand, is now the biggest limit on AI. Higher rates and AI-credit stress hit names tied to OpenAI and Anthropic financing. It names wafers, substrates, HBM memory and power as supply bottlenecks.
RISKS	Customer concentration in OpenAI and Anthropic; off-balance-sheet financing exposure; Q4 guide only in line.
WALL STREET TARGETS	Consensus $522 (+62.3% vs close) · range $350–$630 · 28 buy / 2 hold / 0 sell (Nasdaq) JPMorgan Overweight $580 (Jun, CNBC) · Morgan Stanley Overweight $502 (Jul 14, CNBC) · Bernstein Outperform $575 (Sep 22, CNBC)

3 months of daily closes (Jul 23 to Oct 23); shaded = last month. Intraday ranges: 1 month $244.72–$265.34; 3 months $226.16–$287.20.

NEXT EARNINGS	Thu Oct 29 · after the close (after 1:00 PM PT) · in 3 days
CONSENSUS EPS	$2.01 vs $1.95 a year ago · 14 analysts
OPTIONS WINDOW	Reports Thu Oct 29, 3 days out. No expiry is both ≥7 DTE and before the report: no new options until it's out (Rules 3 and 4).
IV CHECK	No new options yet: every 7–60 DTE expiry runs past earnings on Oct 29 (Rule 3). After the report: Cheap · IV without the earnings move about 32% vs 33% actual 20-day movement (ratio 0.97). First day you can buy: Mon Nov 2.
EARNINGS MOVE PRICED IN	±7.8% (±$19.45) by the Oct 30 expiry, from the $247.50 straddle.
LATEST RESULTS	Q2 (Jul 30): sales $200.6B, up 20%; operating income $27.5B. AWS $42.2B, up 37% (fastest in 18 quarters), AWS operating income $16.6B, $169B run rate.
GUIDANCE	Q3 sales $197–202B (+9–12%), below the $204.1B consensus because Prime Day moved to June; operating income $22.5–26.5B. AWS backlog $496B.
CAPEX & INVESTMENT	2026 capex raised to about $220B (from $200B) because memory prices rose; CEO Andy Jassy says that still won't meet 2026 demand. Analysts flag negative free cash flow.
CURRENT PARTNERSHIPS	• Anthropic (AWS) • 3M expanded data-center products relationship (Oct 19)
CATALYSTS	• ⚠ Q3 earnings Thu Oct 29 after the close: AWS growth vs Q2's 37%, the capex number, free cash flow • Morgan Stanley Top Pick (Oct 19) • AWS re:Invent Nov 30–Dec 4 • Holiday season (hiring plans up 20%)
MARKET EVENTS	The Fed (Oct 28) and GDP/PCE (Oct 29, the same day it reports) move megacaps. Memory costs drive capex. The Meta capex scare that hit AI stocks Oct 22 shows how its own capex number will be judged.
RISKS	Capex outrunning cash flow; soft Q3 retail guide; AI agents shopping on rival platforms (Walmart allows them, Amazon blocks them).
WALL STREET TARGETS	Consensus $330 (+33.3% vs close) · range $230–$400 · 41 buy / 2 hold / 0 sell (Nasdaq) Morgan Stanley Overweight, top pick $350 (Oct 19, CNBC) · Rosenblatt Buy $360 (Sep 30, CNBC)

LATEST RESULTS	Q2 (Jul 29): revenue about ₩79.3T (+257%), operating profit ₩60.5T (76% margin). Both were records but missed consensus; shares fell 9.6%.
GUIDANCE	No formal guidance. HBM4 mass shipments began in Q2, with HBM4E samples out. Q3 results come before 9:00 AM Seoul on Oct 28, which is after the US close on Tue Oct 27.
CAPEX & INVESTMENT	M15X fab started wafer processing; first phase of the Yongin fab targeted for Q1 2027. ASML is raising parts prices 10%.
CURRENT PARTNERSHIPS	• HBM supplier to AI accelerator makers • Solidigm (NAND): $10B US IPO pulled Oct 22; New York plant talks with Gov. Hochul • SK Group chairman selling a 1.34% stake to the Dell family office (Oct 14)
CATALYSTS	• ⚠ Q3 earnings Tue Oct 27 after the US close • Samsung's full Q3 results ~Oct 29 • Nvidia AI Day Seoul Nov 9–10; Nvidia earnings Nov 18 • BofA expects bigger shareholder returns
MARKET EVENTS	Memory pricing, Korean won and the Kospi; China capacity (CXMT) and US approvals for its China fabs.
RISKS	Memory-cycle fears (Cathie Wood warned of 'vicious' cycles); China competition; high expectations (it missed in Q2).
WALL STREET TARGETS	No Nasdaq consensus yet (recent U.S. listing). BofA Buy $250 (Aug, Seeking Alpha) · Barclays Overweight $330 (Jul 14, CNBC) · Cantor Fitzgerald Overweight $300 (Aug 4, CNBC)

NEXT EARNINGS	Not set · last reported Thu Oct 22
OPTIONS WINDOW	Already reported Thu Oct 22; next date not set yet. A 7–60 DTE option bought now is not expected to run into a report.
IV CHECK	Cheap · IV 77% vs 95% actual 20-day movement (ratio 0.81) on the Nov 27 expiry, 32 DTE. Actual movement includes the Oct 22 earnings move, so "cheap" may be overstated.
LATEST RESULTS	Q3 (Oct 22): revenue $1.24B, $170M above estimates; non-GAAP EPS $0.94, $0.27 above. Stock still fell 11% on cash outflows and expansion costs.
GUIDANCE	2026 revenue $4.4–4.6B; non-GAAP EPS outlook raised to $3.10–3.40.
CAPEX & INVESTMENT	Factory capacity expansion (announced Sep 29). Spending on that expansion is why cash flow disappointed in Q3.
CURRENT PARTNERSHIPS	• Oracle data-center power (a reported force-majeure notice on one Oracle site hit the stock Sep 24) • Joined the S&P 500 in September
CATALYSTS	• The next earnings date isn't set (it just reported) • Oracle AI World Oct 25–28 and Oracle investor day Oct 28 • New hyperscaler power contracts • Trump's call (Oct 21) for data centers to supply their own electricity: a tailwind for on-site power
MARKET EVENTS	AI-power demand, utility grid limits and natural-gas prices (fuel). Rate-sensitive: a hike at the Oct 28 FOMC would weigh on it.
RISKS	Cash burn during expansion; execution on Oracle projects; valuation (the stock is 44% off its high after the report).
WALL STREET TARGETS	Consensus $292 (+50.8% vs close) · range $176–$351 · 9 buy / 10 hold / 0 sell (Nasdaq) Jefferies $242 (Oct 23, CNBC via TipRanks)
